

Depth expected to reach 20,000 feet

Pistol Ridge drilling progresses

Spokesmen for Saga Petroleum said Tuesday that the Norwegian company's oil exploration program in Pearl River County was going smoothly with drilling expected to be completed within three to four months.

The drilling work, begun April 28, is being conducted in an area known locally as Pistol Ridge near Lumberton, Miss.

The Pistol Ridge operation is the second well spudded by the Norwegian company in the Gulf Coast area since an announcement Feb. 21 that Norway's two largest conglomerates, Saga Petroleum and Fred Olsen, Inc., would spend in excess of $22 million in search of oil and natural gas in an eight county area in South Mississippi. The first joint venture well was spudded in the Grand Bay area of Mobile County, Ala. Feb. 10.

Saga petroleum engineer Magne Normann said Tuesday that the company expected to have to drill approximately 20,000 feet before striking any oil at the Pistol Ridge site.

The cost of such drilling was estimated at between two and three million dollars.

Normann said that the actual drilling work had been contracted out to a local outfit, Delta Drilling Company, under the direction of geological consultant Rawley Dial of Gilley & Associates, Lafayette, La.

Normann added drilling could take anywhere from 120 to 140 days, although these figures, he said, were only estimated.

"We can never really know what is down there until we drill," Normann said.

If oil is found at the Pistol Ridge site, he said the oil would probably be refined locally and shipped to the Saga main office in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Wells are operated by a diesel electric motor, which according to Normann reduces the danger of environmental damage.

"We use a non-pollutant fluid in the drilling operation," Normann said,

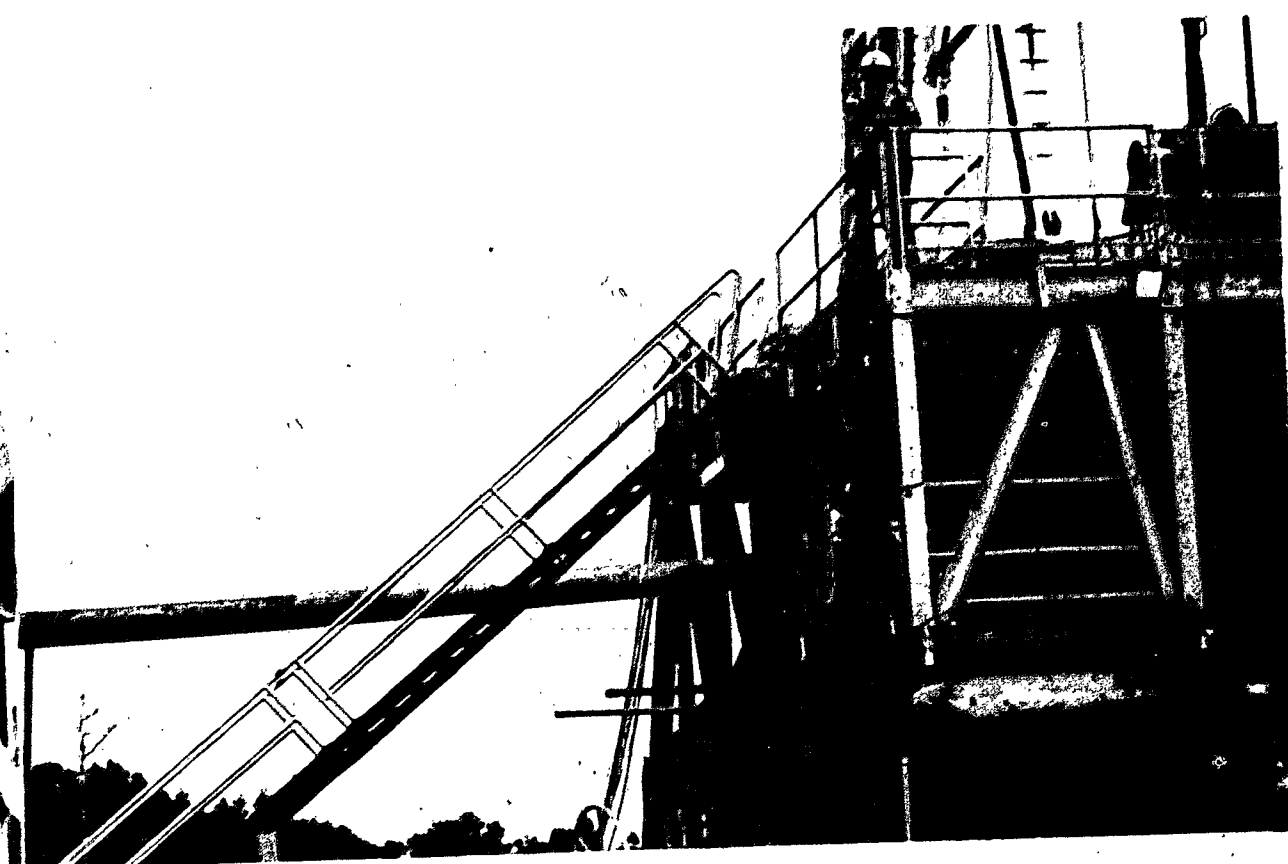

"and have followed all of the environmental regulations required by both the states of Mississippi and Alabama."

Ed Seabourn, operation manager for Saga, announced February that Saga's immediate plans were to drill three wells in Mississippi along with the one in Alabama.

The exploration and drilling program will be conducted on approximately 425,000 acres of leased land in Forest, George, Green, Stone, Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River, and Jackson Counties in Mississippi.

Saga announced Feb. 21 that it was committed to a $30-$35 million capital investment in Mississippi that could easily top $200 million if wells proved successful in gas and oil yields.

Einar Falck, vice chairman of the Board of Saga-Olsen, said that Saga decided to invest capital into American oil ventures after the Norwegian government adopted a "go-slow" policy for exploration in the North Sea.

Crow's nest view

An unidentified worker has a crow's nest view of the situation as he stands on the second level of Saga Petroleum's oil platform in the Pistol Ridge field. Drilling was begun April 28 and is expected to reach 20,000 feet before work is finished in three to four months. It is the second well spudded by the Norwegian oil company in the Gulf Coast area in search of oil and natural gas.

Supervisors wrestle with repayment plan

Hancock County supervisors Monday moved toward another last minute effort to develop a plan to repay $675,000 in Hurricane Camille loan monies given to the county by the state five years ago.

Supervisors wrestling with the problem Monday could not settle on what was the best way to tax the county to recover enough millage to repay the loan, could not decide whether to allow the Hancock School Board to keep $180,000 given them by the board, and could not itemize how much of the money has been spent, by whom, or for what.

The supervisors have until June 6 to develop a plan for repayment of the Governor's Economic Council (GEC) money which must be submitted to the State Bureau of Budget and Accounting.

In a letter addressed to supervisors from county superintendent of education K. G. McCarty, school board members petitioned supervisors to allow them to keep $180,000 given to the county schools as their share of the emergency funds granted to Hancock County.

The letter lists as its chief arguments that the money is needed desperately by the school system for improvements and repairs, that no official notice of a cut-off date for spending of the money was ever accorded the board, and that in the board's opinion the grant by the supervisors to the board constituted "spending" the money.

The school board stated that the $180,000 was to be used in conjunction with the two bond issues that failed. Hancock Board attorney Sam Farve said he disagreed with the grant by the board of supervisors to the school board constituted "spending" the money.

"This was rather a transfer of funds," Farve told school board attorney Joseph Gex.

Gex said that the school board had petitioned the State Bureau of Budget and Accounting for an opinion in the matter.

If the school board is allowed to keep the $180,000 this will require more complicated revenue gathering methods by the supervisors in their repayment plan to be submitted June 6.

"This will just leave us in a position of not being able to develop a plan," Farve said.

The supervisors said they could not justify putting a double tax on the county as a whole if the county school board were allowed to keep the money.

In this case, Farve said, the board would have to put a separate millage on the outside school district alone and millage on the county as a whole. The most that supervisors can impose currently though to repay the loan is two mills per year, as authorized by the state legislature this past session.

On the county's total assessment of approximately $34 million, this alone will take 20 years to repay, clerk John Rutherford, Jr. said. The assessment on the outside school district was estimated to be between $19-$20 million dollars.

Rutherford said that one mill this fall will generate enough money to pay interest on the $675,000 this year, but both Farve and Rutherford said that unless the board puts two mills against the total taxable property of the county it would take "a long time" to pay the loan off.

You'd have a close squeeze on 20 the state, years," Farve said. "It will take one mill," he said, "just to repay the principal."

Plus, Farve said, the people in Bay St. Louis and Waveland will get hit twice with millage if these municipalities have to impose their own millage to repay loans given them by the state.

Clerk John Rutherford promised that his office would compile a complete breakdown of every item the present board and prior boards spent of the GEC money by the board's next scheduled meeting June 2. The board pledged that it would devise its repayment plan at that time.

Going,
Going,

These successive exposures of the lunar eclipse witnessed by much of the world Saturday night and early Sunday morning were taken by Bay St. Louis resident Thomas Koger using a 35 millimeter camera attached to a 45 power telescope. Koger made the pictures at 10 minute intervals from his home at 912 South Beach Boulevard.

Former Bay loan executive faces suit

Former Security Savings & Loan president J. Norton Haas Jr., who was indicted by a federal grand jury in Jackson earlier this month, was named this week as a defendant in a $240,000 civil suit filed by the loan company's former insurer, the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co.

The suit, which was filed Thursday in U.S. District Court in Biloxi names in the suit, along with Haas, six other officers of the Bay St. Louis loan company including former vice president John F. Auderer of Waveland, former treasurer Harold V. Carver of Mississippi City, former vice president and director Robert D. Ladner of Long Beach, former president, vice president and director A. K. Martinovich of Bay St. Louis, former secretary and director Mary E. Boggs and former director and general counsel Michael D. Haas of Bay St. Louis.

The Hartford Company was asking for $240,000 and any additional damages which might be assessed against the company as a result of separate legal action filed in Hinds County Chancery Court against Hartford and former Security Savings President J. Norton Haas, Jr.

Haas was recently indicted on federal loan fraud charges along with Gulf Coast real estate salesman Harry W. Olsen Jr. and William V. Snyder for allegedly authorizing loans by Security Savings which were used for their personal gain.

The chancery court suit, filed last year by the present Security officers, who took control in 1973 charges Haas with committing "fraudulent and dishonest acts" resulting in financial losses to the company.

The Hartford Company is now seeking a declaratory judgment from the federal court setting out the obligations, duties and legal relations between the insurer and the former

Security officers in order to stop payment on a $240,000 Savings and Loan Blanket Bond that it may have to pay as a co-defendant in the chancery court suit.

The insurance company maintains that it is not responsible for any losses incurred through the "negligence and carelessness" of the former Security officers.

The chancery court suit charges that Haas approved a $175,000 loan in October of 1972 to Century Land Co., a company in which Haas held an interest, for development of the Century Plaza Shopping Center on Courthouse Road in Gulfport.

The suit said the loan was approved without adequate site improvements and inspections. It also charges that Haas made "false statements" about the loan to officials for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Stolen cars recovered

Two abandoned stolen cars were recovered by the Hancock County Sheriff's Office this week, but no arrests have been made in either case.

Tuesday morning the sheriff's office recovered a 1973 Chevrolet Caprice that had been pushed over the seawall near Clermont Harbor.

Also cited in the suit are charges to Haas had spent funds for office renovation when no funds were available, that he had authorized loans not approved by the board of directors and that he had made unauthorized charges on an Association credit card. The suits contends that $371,798 in losses were sustained by Security Savings because of Haas' dishonest acts.

Authorities said the car belonged to Mrs. Myrna Doherty of 8538 Dearfield Drive, Chalmette, Louisiana who reported it stolen Monday night while she was visiting friends in Waveland. The car's transmission was broken.

In another incident a stolen 1972 GMC truck belonging to Darrell Kennedy of Miller's trailer park in Waveland was found Wednesday by deputy Leo Woods in the woods near Highway 43. The truck was badly burned and the two front tires and the engine had been taken.

Ladner announces

Clinton "Sonny" Ladner announced his intention this week to seek the Hancock County Beat Two supervisor's seat in the August Democratic primary.

Ladner, 35, is employed as a heavy equipment operator at National Space Technology Laboratories and also does dairy farming.

PHILLIP WAYNE MALLEY

Phillip Wayne Malley, life-long resident of Dedeaux and Pass Christian, Miss., has announced he will seek reelection as Beat Three Constable in the August Democratic primary.

Malley, 29, is a co-owner and operator of P&B Insulation Service. He is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School.

He and his wife, Jannie, reside at Route 2, Box 376, Pass Christian with their four children, Dewayne, DeNanna, DeRan, and Monica.

Ladner is candidate

Nolan S. Ladner, resident of 506 Esplanade Street, Bay St. Louis, announced this week he will be a candidate for Justice of the Peace from Beat Three in the August Democratic primary.

Ladner, 64, is employed by Burns Insurance Company, Gulfport, where he is an agent for National Motor Club.

Lila Taylor announces for chancery clerk

Mrs. Lila Taylor, housewife and resident of Route 2, Box 785C, Bay St. Louis, announces this week that she will be a candidate for Hancock Chancery Court clerk in the August Democratic primary.

Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy in Bay St. Louis and previously served as deputy chancery court clerk for eight and a half years. She is married to William E. Taylor and has two children, Erin and Gerald Taylor.

Making it official

Hancock County Chancery Clerk John Rutherford places the official seal of the State of Mississippi on the deed to McLeod Park transferred to the state from the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in ceremonies May 16. Witnessing the procedure is J. Norton Haas, Sr., a member of the Pearl River Basin Development District who was instrumental in the park's development.

Hancock school board requests permission to spend Camille funds

The Hancock County School Board has written a letter to the county Board of Supervisors outlining the financial plight of the county school system in the hopes that the Supervisors will request the State Commission of Budget and Accounting to allow the school system to spend the $180,000 in Camille loan money allocated to the schools.

Last week the Supervisors had requested that the board return the Governor's Emergency Council money in order to make a partial repayment of the $675,000 Camille loan received by Hancock County in 1969.

The school board contends that the county actually spent the money when it was allocated to the school system, and could, therefore, be used by the schools even though a spending deadline was set at Sept. 30, 1974.

The Hancock County School Board and the County

Superintendent feel that when the money was given to the school system, that this, in effect, was money spent by the Board of Supervisors, even though this money has not been expended by the school system, as of this date," the letter says.

The letter goes on to explain that the delay in the expenditure of the funds which were earmarked for a building program at Hancock North Central School was caused by the failure of two bond issues needed to supplement the GEC funds. The letter also points out that two federal lawsuits against the school board had prevented any recent action on the building program.

The board says that although the money had not been spent, a portion of interest earned by the GEC funds was turned back to the Supervisors for payment of interest on the loan. The letter also says that the school board was not informed of the spending cutoff until April of 1975, seven months after the deadline had passed.

The letter will be sent along with a letter from the Supervisors to meet the June 6 deadline set by the State Director of Budget and Accounting Francis Geoghegan. Supervisors' Attorney Sam Favre said, however, that he did not think permission would be granted to spend the $180,000.

Bay St. Louis ranked fourth in new construction permits

With a total of $144,908.00 in building permits issued during the month of April, 1975, Bay St. Louis stands fourth among the nine coastal cities in total dollar volume of new construction and repairs. Based on a per capita value of permits issued for each community, Bay St. Louis with a 1970 population of 6,752 stands second with a per capita figure of $21.46. Pascagoula ranks first with $25.77 per capita value with its population of 27,264.

Figures furnished by the Mississippi Research and Development Center show that the dollar value of permits issued during the month of April, 1975 are as follows: Pascagoula, $702,650; Biloxi, $244,305; Gulfport, $223,350; Bay St. Louis, $144,908; Ocean Springs, $121,650; Long Beach, $88,995; Moss Point, $76,700; Waveland, $32,703; Pass Christian, $19,324.

The per capita value of permits issued in each community based on the 1970 Federal census are as follows: Pascagoula, $25.77; Bay St. Louis, $21.46; Long Beach, $14.42; Waveland, $10.30; Pass Christian, $6.49; Gulfport, $5.48; Biloxi, $5.04; Moss Point, $3.97; Ocean Springs, $3.07.

Harrison health clinics offer free pap tests

Women of Harrison County have one more opportunity to participate in the Pap Test Clinic sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the Harrison County Health Department.

The last clinic in Pass Christian will be at 7 p.m.

Police offer crime programs

Bay St. Louis police chief William Carbonette reminded residents that the police department has a free program for marking valuables called Operation Identification. For information about the program call the city police station on Old Spanish Trail.

Carbonette also reminded citizens of the Crime Stop line, 467-3446, a confidential system for residents to report information to the police department and help prevent crime.

Thursday, May 29 at the Health Department on Second Avenue.

The final clinic in North Gulfport, will be at 7 p.m. Friday, May 30 at the North Gulfport Family Planning Center at the corner of Arkansas and Jefferson.

Clinics will be held at both the Gulfport and Biloxi Health Departments at 9 Saturday, May 31.

For more information the women may call the American Cancer Society on Courthouse Road in Gulfport.

PEP committee to offer dose of cheer

By BOB INNES
Long Beach Bureau

There's been a new discovery that could aid in the curing of depressions and recessions.

The Positive Economic Program (PEP) will bring a (dose) of spirit to Long Beach tomorrow in an effort to make citizens realize that the present economic situation isn't quite as bad as it seems.

According to Long Beach Coordinator Sam Lauderdale, a caravan will arrive in Long Beach on Friday filled with cheerleaders, mayors of various coast towns, a band and other guests.

"The whole pep rally is being sponsored in an attempt to let all coastians know that our economic state is not truly depressing," Lauderdale explained.

Starting in Moss Point the caravan will visit each city along the Gulf Coast stopping for 30 minute intervals to tell citizens of economic progress in the state as compared to the nation. The rally will conclude in Waveland.

According to national statistics, Lauderdale said that the coast isn't as bad off as some people may think, and that Long Beach is in pretty good shape.

June has been proclaimed PEP month with the rally being a sort of kickoff, Lauderdale said.

Scheduled on the program is music furnished by a small jazz band, an address by Mayor Sam Maxwell on the economic progress of Long Beach, and introduction of guests. Included will be Miss Mississippi, Diane Bounds; Miss Long Beach, Cathy Passailaigue; Long Beach Fishing Rodeo Princess Carol Fennel, and Harrison County PEP Committee Chairman Roland Weeks.

Included in the entourage will be cheerleaders from coast schools and colleges who will be in the crowd handing out buttons and bumper stickers. Lauderdale said shirts will also be on sale.

Chamber discusses $3,000 deficit for year

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce president Perry Gibson told the board of directors Tuesday that the chamber needed $3,000 in additional monies to carry out the chamber program this year.

Gibson recommended the hiring of a full time secretary in the chamber office at the request of new manager Max Berns as one of the additions to this year's budget.

"The chamber president said he hoped the Bay St. Louis City Council could be persuaded to reconsider the cut in its annual allocation from $1200 to $600. He also said that anticipated revenues included $4,500 from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, $400 from the Waveland Board of Aldermen, and $400 from the Bay St. Louis City Council.

The board of directors passed an amendment to the chamber by-laws requiring members joining the chamber at half year to pay a full year's dues.

"The benefits offered by the chamber are really intangible benefits," said Gibson. "And those merchants who are not members are really getting a free ride. I don't think it is unreasonable to ask new members to pay the full year's dues."

Objecting to the motion board member Gus Uram said he felt the chamber should entice new members by offering them a bargain the first year.

"I think that we have never had a real effort to get a broad base of membership in the chamber," said Gibson. "We may find that if we concentrate on getting all of the merchants to join, the requirement of paying a full year's dues will not be a problem."

In other matters the chamber outlined the activities planned for the PEP rally May 30 sponsored by the Positive Economic Programs Committee. Chairman Nell Frisbie said the PEP caravan will begin in Moss Point Friday morning and work its way along the coast arriving in Bay St. Louis at approximately 4 p.m. and in Waveland at 5 p.m. Mrs. Frisbie said local merchants at Bay St. Louis Shopping Center and Our Shopping Center in Waveland have been encouraged to conduct PEP sales in conjunction with the rallies at the shopping centers. Mayor Warren Carver of Bay St. Louis and Waveland Mayor John Longo have signed proclamations declaring June PEP month.

Chamber president Perry Gibson announced that he will attend the Discover America Travel Convention at the Rivergate in New Orleans May 30 and 31. Gibson said a booth promoting the Gulf Coast would be set up at the convention by the Area five Tourist Council and would include literature about Hancock County. The Agricultural and Industrial Board will present a 30 minute film on Mississippi at the convention, he said.

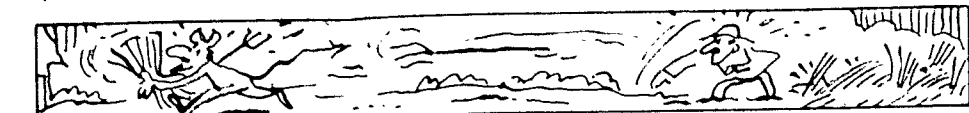

The chamber also appointed a committee to select a representative from Hancock County for the Miss Hospitality contest in Biloxi July 23 - 26. Members of the committee are Anita Lamb, Nell Frisbie, Jeannette Monti, Perry Gibson and Max Berns.

Joe Benvenuti addresses a small crowd Monday who turned out for Memorial Day services at St. Mary's cemetery in Bay St. Louis conducted by the Clement R. Bon Temps chapter of the American Legion.

Services were held at the gravesite of Boutemps, who at age 24 lost his life in the line of duty with the U. S. Marine sixth regiment. The Bay St. Louis American Legion chapter is named in his honor.

Senior Citizens Happenings

Don Mauffray
Recreation Director

This past Sunday 30 members of The Senior Citizens Choral Group, made up mostly of Spend-the-Day participants, motored to New Orleans to sing at the Second United Methodist Church on Burgundy Street at their 8:30 A.M. services. Mr. Jim DeMars drove the Senior Citizens bus and Mr. Charles Johnson of the R.S.V.P. drove their "Golden Chariot" station wagon. Mrs. Wilma Miller and Mrs. Amanda Sylvester also assisted in the transportation with their private cars.

Before the services everyone enjoyed coffee and donuts served by the ladies of the church. Then, following the services, delicious sandwiches (by the hatful) and more coffee and donuts were served during Fellowship Hour.

Mrs. Herr, wife of Pastor Cleveland B. Herr, Jr. presented Mr. Ludwig "Pop" Mulling, our organist, Mrs. Gena DeMars, Coordinator, and Don Mauffray, Director, with each a song book "Sing n' Celebrate!"

On the return trip we had lunch at Morrison's Cafeteria in Lake Forest Shopping Center. It was quite a memorable day for all.

Our Choral Group will sing for the Mass at St. Rose de Lima, Catholic Church on Sunday, June 8th.

Bay police arrest burglary suspects

Bay St. Louis police arrested nine burglary suspects this week in connection with four separate burglaries reported in Bay St. Louis during the last two months.

Arrested in connection with a Wednesday evening burglary of Pitale's Grocery were Harry Bourgeois, 18, Alfred Stoufflet, 20 and Calvin Shenefelt, 19, all of Bay St. Louis. A hearing for the three suspects was held in city court last night.

Police chief William Carbonette said the burglars had entered Pitale's by breaking through the front glass door of the store. Several six-packs of beer were the only merchandise reported missing. Assisting Chief Carbonette were Assistant Chief Douglas Williams, and patrolmen Larry Ladner and H. Boudreaux.

Bay police have also arrested six persons in connection with a burglary of the Bay Junior High office, and hand room April 27 which resulted in the loss of approximately $1,200 worth of band equipment, microphones and stands, Carbonette said.

Arrested were Clarence Taylor, 18, Michael Barabino, 25, Samuel Pope, 22, three juveniles, all of Bay St. Louis. Taylor and the three juveniles were arrested May 16 by Chief Carbonette assisted by Deputy Chief Lathan Garriga of the Hancock County Sheriff's office. Barabino and Pope were arrested the same day by the Bay police on charges of possession of stolen property. Some of the band equipment was recovered following a search of Pope's home at 506 Washington St. in Bay St. Louis.

charge of burglary and possession of stolen property in connection with both incidents.

Pope was also charged by the Bay police in connection with two other burglaries of neighboring homes, 808 and 810 N. Beach, Bay St. Louis reported May 11. Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor, 808 N. Beach Blvd., reported the theft of a Homelite chain saw valued at $150 from their garage the same evening that Mr. Charles Blomberg reported the loss of a portable television set valued at $100 from his home. Pope was arrested at 3 a.m. May 16 by patrolman Larry Ladner on a

Stamp Act sparks Henry debates

Editor's Note: The following article submitted by the Hancock County Historical Society contains authenticated facts about the American Revolutionary period.

MAY 30, 1765 - Virginia Stamp Act Resolutions

The British Empire

inaugurated in 1763 the raising of additional revenue in the American Colonies, and in 1764 introduced a Stamp Tax.

The Stamp Act passed Parliament with little opposition or attention. The ministry hoped that colonies would accept the bill favorably. The Stamp Act was designed to grant and apply certain stamp duties and other taxes in America to further defray the expenses of defending, protecting and securing the British colonies.

On May 29 the Virginia House of Burgesses resolved itself into a committee of the whole to consider the Stamp Act. Patrick Henry, a new member from Louisa County, introduced seven resolutions which were bitterly opposed by many of the tidewater leaders. However, a lengthy oratory from Henry, five resolutions were passed the following day. Although the last two resolutions were rejected, the entire series of resolutions was published in the newspaper. It is in connection with the debate on these resolutions that Henry made his "Caesar had his Brutus" speech, the actual text of which is apparently very different from that generally given.

What the South should demand on all its books that are used in the Southern school room is the truth and when a book is found on the market that does not present it, the mark of disapproval should be stamped on it, and its introduction in any of our Southern schools should be forbidden by those in charge.

Air Show to feature stunts, aircraft

By BOB INNES
Long Beach Bureau

Airplane buffs should have their hands full with displays, spot bombing contests, model airplane displays and stunt flying at the Stennis International air show scheduled for Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Stennis International Airport in Hancock County. The show could become an annual event. According to officials, the USAF Thunderbirds will pass over the field Sunday morning on their way to Keesler Air Force Base where their performance will be the first there in two years.

The show is being underwritten by the Hancock County Port and Harbor

Commission at a cost of $2,000. Highlights of the show will include the Flying Tigers Flying Museum from Paris, Tex., a World War II B-17 used by John Wayne in the movie "Battle of Midway," and stunt flying by the Rev. I. N. Burchinal also of Paris, Tex., and pilot of a fleet of World War II and Korean War fighters. Burchinal has flown in such movies as "Catch 22," "Murphy's War," and recently "The Great Waldo Pepper."

Other highlights include spot bombing contests, parachute jumps, aerobatic flying, model airplane and static aircraft displays.

The show is free to the public. On hand in the concession stand will be fresh crawfish, cold beer, hamburgers, hot dogs, soft drinks and other refreshments. Proceeds from the concessions will go to the Hancock County Crippled Children's Foundation.

The Mississippi Coast Transit Authority will provide transportation to Bay St. Louis and Waveland residents at a nominal fee.

Bay Colonel announces retirement

Bay St. Louis, Lieutenant Colonel Randolph Bourgeois, has announced his retirement from the U.S. Army effective June 30 after 29 years of military service.

Bourgeois, a St. Stanislaus graduate, began his military career in 1945 as an enlisted man in the United States Marine Corps. In 1951 he transferred to the U.S. Army, attended Officer Candidate School and received a Reserve Officers Commission. He was selected as a Regular Army Officer in 1961.

Colonel Bourgeois received his Bachelor of Science degree in Commerce from the University of Maryland, and is a graduate of the Army Command and General Staff College and of the Army Management School.

A veteran of World War II, Korea and Vietnam, and a Master Army Aviator with 25 years of aviation and communications experience, Colonel Bourgeois lists among his more than 40 awards and decorations the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross for Heroism, two Bronze Stars, three Meritorious Service Medals, seven Air Medals, two Army Commendation Medals, and three Republic of Vietnam Crosses of Gallantry.

Colonel Bourgeois is currently assigned as Director of Communications for Headquarters, Department of the Army Operations Center, the Pentagon, Washington, D.C.

Colonel and Mrs. Bourgeois will return in July to their new home and permanent residence in Bay St. Louis. Colonel Bourgeois is the son of Mrs. Jennie Bourgeois LaRosa and the late Randolph Bourgeois.

OLG adds new faculty member

Our Lady of the Gulf Elementary School has added Miss Lucinda Ann Lizana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Lizana of Bay St. Louis to its faculty as a third grade teacher.

Miss Lizana is a graduate of St. Rose de Lima Elementary School and Bay Senior High. She received a Bachelor's Degree in Early Childhood Education at Viterbo College in LaCrosse, Wisconsin under the direction of the Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration.

Upon graduation, Miss Lizana was elected as a candidate for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

There used to be a popular radio program entitled "Time Marches On"—which is the way you feel when you study the history of our Gulf Coast. The shoreline sat there with only moderate changes for millions of years; then it was discovered as civilization moved southward, and within a short three hundred years it bloomed and flourished.

First, Indian tribes found their way into the dense, silent forests and thrived there for several hundred years. Then the white man's first probing fingers touched the southeast, east and, under the famous Canadian-born Frenchman D'Iberville, felt along the Gulf Coast from Pensacola to the new-found mouth of the Mississippi. Soon Mobile Bay, and Round, Dauphin, Horn and Ship islands had been explored and the Bay of St. Louis was located with its abundance of deer and game, including buffaloes.

From then on development was rapid. Fort Rosalie was built in 1716, New Orleans was established in 1718, New Biloxi in 1720. The seat of colonial government administration was set at Biloxi in 1720 and moved to New Orleans two years later.

So here was a vigorous productive colony of white settlers firmly established on the Gulf Shore in the early part of the 18th century. No longer were the piney woods left to dream in silence. As early as 1718 there was a building on the shore of Pascagoula Bay, now known as Old Spanish Fort, the oldest building in Mississippi. But the same old moon that makes our beaches so beautiful today was shining on them then—and how lovely the whole coast country must have been on an early summer night with only the gentle ruffling of the surf and the whispering of the warm breeze to break the silence.

The steady increase of population particularly along the shore of the Gulf, prompted the Territory to seek admission to the Union as a State, and to support the petition a census of Jackson County was taken in 1816 which showed that there were 1018 people in the district, 756 of them whites. Thereupon a demand arose that two States, instead of one, be set up in the Territory because of the "vast distance" that separated the Pascagoula and Mobile districts (80 to 130 miles) from the western or delta country. But the argument did not prevail, and on Dec. 10, 1817, Congress accepted the State's constitution and Mississippi was part of the Union.

Driving today along the lovely coast road from the placid Bay of St. Louis, past the heavily commercial outskirts of Gulfport, Biloxi and Mobile, one has visible evidence of the changes in the region in just the past three hundred years. But before that, before people came, there were thousands, even millions, of years when storms and tides changed and shaped our coast into its present pleasantness.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

CONFRONTING CRIME

South Mississippians, my recent questionnaire confirmed, are concerned about inflation, energy, foreign aid reduction and welfare reform—in that order.

But that same poll revealed that they're also very troubled about the continuing high rate of crime. For the third consecutive year, constituents responding to my questionnaire ranked crime as one of the most important issues facing the Congress.

I think it's worth noting that crime beat out such trouble areas as recession, Social Security reform, and education. Certainly, that should tell us something about the extent of concern about crime.

It's not that the Fifth Congressional District is a hot-bed of criminal activity. In fact, I think you'll find that South Mississippi is one of the most crime-free areas in the entire United States.

It's the fact that crime is on the rise, not only in South Mississippi but in every State of the Union. And it's the fact that so many criminals are returned to the streets hours after they've been apprehended for a crime.

I talked about this very problem last week with James B. Adams, assistant to the director for investigations, Federal Bureau of Investigation. He offered a very simple solution: "punishment for those who break the law."

"Plea bargaining has been a negative factor in effective enforcement of the law," he said. "There is simply no substitute for criminal punishment."

Even the Supreme Court in the District of Columbia seems to be reaching the end of its patience. Its chief justice recently called for "vigorous prosecution of those who commit crimes of violence."

Serious crimes in the United States rose 17 per cent in 1974, the highest annual increase since the FBI started collecting crime statistics 45 years ago. In the last three months of 1974, the figure was 19 per cent.

Attorney General Edward Levi hit the nail on the head when he said the figures "represent a dismal and tragic failure of our present system of criminal justice."

President Ford hit the nail on the head, too, when he suggested mandatory sentences for anyone convicted of a violent crime. He asked that mandatory sentences also be given for those who use a handgun in a criminal offense.

The biggest problem is in our courts, where criminals are all too often treated with kid gloves. In our area of the country, however, it's more a problem of crowded court dockets and over-worked prosecutors.

Local law enforcement officials are doing their job and they need your full support. They'll tell you that public cooperation and support are absolutely essential if their programs are to succeed.

Congress needs to pick up the ball, too. I plan to continue to insist that Congress take the necessary steps to bring the problem of crime under control.

That's why I voted against the Parole Reorganization Act of 1975. I don't like the idea of treating a criminal like a king.

The Parole Reorganization Act has two major flaws in my view: (1) it shifts the burden of proof from the prisoner to the parole board when it is time for a parole hearing, thus destroying the idea that a prisoner must prove that he is ready for release; and (2) it makes a parole more or less mandatory unless the parole board is able to establish proof that the prisoner is not ready to assume a responsible role in society.

My views, however, were in a distinct minority in the House of Representatives. The Parole Reorganization Act was approved of by a vote of 280-137.

County Agent's Notes

CALFHOOD VACCINATION FOR BRUCELLOSIS

We are happy to announce that the Mississippi Board of Animal Health has employed some 40 young men throughout the state, for the sole purpose of vaccinating calves for brucellosis on a contract basis. These young men are pre-veterinarian and animal science students from Mississippi State University.

Hancock County was very lucky to have one of these students. He will be assigned to work Hancock and Harrison counties. Jamie Michael Ladner, son of James C. Ladner, Deputy Sheriff of the Dedaux Community of Hancock County, will be working during the summer months vaccinating all heifer calves between the ages of 3-8 months of age.

The state has set a goal of 100 per cent vaccination of all heifer calves against brucellosis for the next five or more years in order to achieve the brucellosis-free status. This program is very important to every cattleman in Hancock County and the state of Mississippi. It is going to take the cooperation of all cattlemen to achieve this goal.

As County Agent of Hancock County,

I would like to encourage all cattlemen to get behind this program and help us get all calves of age vaccinated this summer.

Calves, both dairy and beef, should be vaccinated as soon as possible after becoming three months of age and not over 8 months.

Cattlemen can call the county agent's office at 467-5456 or call Jamie at 255-7218 to set up schedules for betting your calves vaccinated.

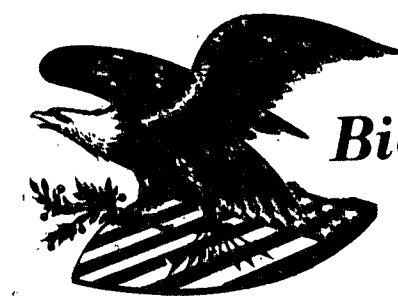

This program will be at no cost to the cattlemen.

If you have any questions about this program, call the county agent's office.

SOYBEAN WEED CONTROL

There is no single all-purpose herbicide available at present that will control all weeds normally found in soybeans. Since herbicides vary in degree of control of certain weeds, it is important to understand both the herbicide limitations and the particular weed problems of each field before selecting a herbicide.

With similar herbicides, consider carefully such things as cost, ease of application and availability. Always read and follow label directions on any herbicide that you use.

Bicentennial News

By JOE PILET

Believing there are those who would like an explanation of the meaning of the official insignia of the American Revolution Bicentennial which was authorized under Public Law 93-179 the following information was provided through the courtesy of Perry Snyder, who serves as State Director for the movement.

"The symbol is contemporary in design in keeping with the forward-vancement of human welfare as it moves into its third century."

"The American Revolution Bicentennial symbol is derived from the stars, stripes and colors of the United States flag.

"The symbol takes the form of an American 5-pointed star in white, surrounded by continuous red, white and blue stripes which form a second star. This double star is symbolic of the two centuries which have passed since the American Revolution.

The colorful stripes also evoke a feeling of festivity and suggest the furling bunting traditionally used in time of celebration throughout the nation."

Nationally designated Bicentennial communities may fly these flags proudly beneath the American flag. Our State Bicentennial director together with other dignitaries will present flags bearing this symbol during public ceremonies planned in Hancock County for October 9. Flags will be presented for Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Hancock County representatives.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

The following letter concerns the upcoming democratic primary on August 5, 1975.

I am in no way writing this letter for any political campaign, nor am I myself running for any elected or politically oriented office.

This letter is strictly concerned with the awakening of those unregistered and registered voters who will be affected entirely by the outcome of this upcoming election sequence.

I was born and raised in Hancock County, and ironically I plan to live here for the remainder of my life.

But, I am sick knowing that there are people of this county, young and old, who have not registered to vote within your county. It only takes about 15 minutes to register to vote for city and county elections.

Yet, those who complain about our systems within the county, and who are unregistered to vote, are bigger hypocrites than those who are registered and do vote.

An elected official does not vote himself into office. You do!

The people who vote decide on what position they will place themselves in for the next four years by who they elect to serve and represent them.

For the past 40 years, you people have taken these elections as a joke! Who have you elected who hasn't been in our counties politics one way or another over or within these past 40 years?

Why not give some honest, dependable, and pretty well known average, but knowledgeable, citizens a chance to serve and represent you and run their office as they should be, and not so as they are now.

I am a young person by age, 21, but I have quickly become aware of the scandalistic ways of politicians, how they get things done, and how little they want to help you, the people.

Can you understand what I have said? Have you removed the blindness from your eyes? Can you see the importance of this election?

If you can't, get out of Hancock County! We don't need one-track minded dead heads in this county. We need people.

We need concerned citizens who wish for a better environment for their children to grow, and one which the people can take pride in and enjoy better conditions.

We need to let go of the past and create a future, and you the people are the only, and I mean only, ones who can decide the fate of our environment for the next four years or longer.

And, the way to do this is to register to vote before July 3, 1975, if you have not already; carefully study the qualifications of each candidate; and confront each candidate possible and collect their views and extent of their knowledge of the offices which they seek.

If you are capable of doing those three things that I have just mentioned, then you are capable of selecting the right person for the job.

If not, well, you'll suffer just as you have over the past four to forty years.

I strongly urge everyone 18 years or older who hasn't registered to vote to do so, or just shut-up!

Every vote counts, and the fewer votes there are, the stronger the possibility that the same politicians will continue to hold and destroy the democracy of our American ways within our county.

Don't Be Bashful or Uninterested!

Elect People, Not Politicians! Vote!

Sincerely yours,
H. J. (Chip) Prevost, Jr.
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

P. S. In the last county election, there were approximately 10,000 plus votes in Hancock County. Approximately 3,200 people voted which is an approximate average of 32 percent of the entire votes in Hancock County. THAT'S PITIFUL!

from U.S. SENATOR
JAMES EASTLAND

Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) Friday told a Senate Subcommittee meeting the Army Corps of Engineers has "done a tremendous job in serving America" but that it should not be involved in efforts that would duplicate the purpose of other federal programs.

"The Corps of Engineers has done a tremendous job in serving America. The responsibility for making our water highways useful throughout the year was placed on the Corps and it has done an excellent job of opening up the internal markets of the United States and the export markets of the world to our industries and farms," said Eastland in a statement prepared to be included in the official record of the Water Resources Subcommittee hearing.

"The Corps has exercised good judgment and foresight in making the greatest possible use of available funds."

According to Senator Eastland, the Corps should be commended for construction navigational facilities to accomplish multiple purposes.

"In developing navigation, the Corps has constructed some dams so they contribute to flood control and/or to hydro-electric power generation. These multiple benefits have been extremely important in the past three years for flood control as well as the contribution to electric power generation."

Senator Eastland said that the United States has invested over $5 billion in flood control projects since the 1800's, with $1.89 billion being spent in the Mississippi River Valley. With the Mississippi River Valley project only 37 percent complete, the facilities prevented an estimated $14 billion in damages in 1973 alone.

Senator Eastland said he was "deeply concerned" that the Corps would be "forced into areas it is ill-equipped to handle."

Recent court actions have directed the Corps to assume authority over land use matters that have previously been under jurisdiction of the states.

"Putting the Department of the Army into these areas will result in substantial duplication of effort and purpose with respect to other federal programs," said Eastland. "It will infringe on the Department of Commerce's coastal zone management program and will directly impact on the activities of the Department of Agriculture's soil conservation program.

"I can foresee costly delays to these agencies, as well as to private land owners, if they are required to obtain permits for any activity involving the disposal of dredge material or use of fill in the affected areas."

"It is questionable whether the Corps should be forced into a sweeping regulatory program beyond the boundaries of the federal navigational servitude areas as we know them and which have traditionally been the responsibility of the states."

Senator Eastland said he opposes proposals to impose "user charges" on inland waterway traffic.

"I am opposed to the Administration's proposal to place user charges on inland waterway traffic. It is no more feasible to apply such charges than it would be to place them upon ocean-going vessels that use our harbors in international trade," said Senator Eastland. "Equity demands that inland and overseas water transportation be treated equally to encourage the distribution of the production of our plants and farms to our own people as well as to the world."

Eastland also called for quick replacement of obsolete flood control facilities.

"Some locks and dams have become obsolete and, in some instances, are dangerous to river traffic. These facilities should be modernized or replaced as quickly as possible."

Q. My wife and I are filing separate returns. Can I itemize while she takes the standard deduction?

A. No. Married couples filing separate returns must handle their deductions the same way. If one itemizes deductions; the other must also itemize. Married couples filing separately must also take the same type of standard deduction. If one takes the standard deduction, both must take it.

The Selective Service announced a new system for young men to register draft. Previously, young men were required to register by age 18, although no one had been drafted since Jan.

Harold R. White, director said that the Service plans to set up a year procedure, where young men reaching a previous year will be required to register. White said many men turning 18 have already registered and will not have to do so.

Registration on a draft was discontinued April 1964. All young men born after April 1 will be required to register in the period to register is not probably in Jan. 1975.

First family moves to Mansion

Governor Bill Waller and Mississippi's first family last week moved into the restored Governor's Mansion in Jackson.

Mrs. Waller described the move from their Jackson residence to the historic 1840's Mansion downtown as "thrilling and hectic."

Only the upstairs family portion of the Mansion is now complete, Mrs. Waller said, and work is still in progress on offices and in the historic portion of the Mansion.

She said that workers will continue into the night if necessary to finish the preparations for the official opening of the Mansion June 8. President Gerald Ford and Governors of fifty states have been invited to attend the opening. Several Governors have already accepted invitations, and others are expected to attend as they will be in New Orleans that day for the National Governors' Conference.

"The Mansion is a monument to and the property of the people of Mississippi," Governor Waller said. "We are now developing plans to give all the people an opportunity to visit."

During July, Mrs. Waller plans to open the Mansion to the state on a county-by-county basis. Later, trained guides from the Department of Archives and History will conduct tours of the building. The Governor said he expects word soon on whether or not the National Park Service will designate the Mansion as a National Historic Landmark.

Governor Waller and the Mississippi Marketing Council Tuesday sponsored Mississippi's First Seminar on Housing and Wood Products. According to Paul Fugate, Director of the Council, over 60 Mississippi wood products industries were expected to be represented.

Waller said that the purpose of the conference was to "bring together leaders of the industry to develop a plan for Mississippi companies to use in taking advantage of the tremendous worldwide opportunities for wood-related products."

The Governor urged the various companies represented to work together and "pool your resources, so that you will be able to handle big jobs such as orders for as many as 300,000 prefabricated houses in Iran."

The Governor noted that 46 percent of all industry in Mississippi is related to wood products, and he said that the current depressed market for wood products in the United States points to the need to develop international markets.

Governor Waller has announced that the State of Mississippi has been awarded two grants totaling $5.7 million to fund programs aimed at improving the state's criminal justice system and corrections programs.

The Governor said that the grants were awarded to the Mississippi Division of Law Enforcement Assistance by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in Washington.

Waller said that $5.1 million will be used to fund anti-crime programs outlined in the State's comprehensive criminal justice plan, while $604,000 will be used to fund corrections programs.

"Mississippi is moving ahead in its fight against crime," Waller said. "The state of Mississippi through the Division of Law Enforcement Assistance is

Commagere memory still vibrant in Bay area

By JOE PILET

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of continuing articles dealing with items of historical interest in the Sea Coast area written for the Sea Coast Echo by Mrs. Joe Pilet. Copyright applied for.

On the grounds of the Hancock County Court House and facing Main Street is a monument erected to the memory of Forster Commagere. The Commagere name also graces one of our Bay St. Louis streets. "Newcomers" (and that means any person settling in this area after 1950) are curious. "Who?" they ask. "Why?" they inquire. And not a few believe that Forster Commagere was buried on the Courthouse Lawn! Hancock County Tax Assessor George Heitzmann has been of great assistance in clearing up these misconceptions.

"Forster Commagere is a legend," Heitzmann explained. "When I try to tell who Commagere was... what he meant to this community... well, I just don't know where to begin," he added.

But he started by speaking of a young and devout Catholic who came to Stanislaus as a coach and was so successful that several of his players made names for themselves and their school including All American Marchmont Schwartz in 1919-1930.

In the early days, Heitzmann reminisced, Forster stayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archy Hart where he was accepted as "one of the family". Later he stayed at Stanislaus.

Forster attended church every day of his life and took a great interest in the welfare of young people. It is said he spent his salary helping those in need.

So revered and loved and respected was the man that when death came following a heart attack in 1950 his body was interred in St. Stanislaus Cemetery.

Friends felt the need to express their affection and respect for this man who gave so many years in serving the people of the area.

Vincent Morreale spearheaded the fund raising, but many people made a contribution. Heitzmann recalled, in order that a monument might be erected. The monument, surrounded by shrubs and a vase for those who might wish to place flowers is inscribed: "Erected to the memory of Forster Commagere. Died Sept. 15, 1950. His life an ideal. His memory an inspiration. A moulder of character. A friend of youth and all humanity."

As a "friend of youth", the county recognized Commagere's worth and created a position carrying a small salary, but with Commagere's death the office he held died also. There simply wasn't anyone to replace him.

Then the city of Bay St. Louis decided another reminder was needed to ensure that the Commagere name would not fade in people's memory and the beautiful Commagere Boulevard was dedicated.

And so welcomed newcomers this is your "who your 'what' and your 'why'." This is the Commagere legend.

Pass High opens summer registration

Registration for summer school at Pass Christian High School will be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. June 2 at the Pass High Library.

Two semesters will be offered from June 2 to June 20 and from June 23 to July 12. Classes will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in Civics, Mississippi history, world history, English 9-12, American history, American government, economics, Math I and II, Algebra I, general science, biology, physical science, driver education and physical education. Tuition for the summer term is $40 for high school students and $30 for junior high students for each course taken.

Students from schools other than Pass High must present a letter from their principal stating that the credit earned will be accepted.

Waveland home destroyed by fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Huston Dickerson of Gulfside St. in Waveland was described as a total loss by Waveland firemen who answered a neighbor's call at 5:20 a.m. Monday.

Firemen said that the cause of the fire was still under investigation, but an electrical malfunction was suspected. No injuries were reported during the fire which burned two and one half hours, firemen said. Waveland firemen were assisted by the Bay St. Louis fire department in fighting the fire.

Miss Boarden receives degree

Governor Waller announced last week that the Mississippi Bond Commission has accepted bids on $70 million in construction bonds.

The Governor, chairman of the commission, said that the bonds include a $50 million highway construction issue and $20 million for the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum.

Waller said that the bids were accepted from a group including the First National Bank of Jackson and the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

Rosena R. Boarden of 710 St. Francis St. in Bay St. Louis recently received her Masters of Elementary Education from Clinton College in Jackson in graduation ceremonies. Miss Boarden is a graduate of Bay St. Louis High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Robinson of Bay St. Louis.

Biloxi plans Shrimp Festival

The annual Shrimp Festival and Blessing of the Fleet in Biloxi is set for 2 p.m. Sunday, June 1 at the Biloxi Small Craft Harbor.

Father John P. Robinson of St. Michael's Catholic Church will conduct the blessing calling for an abundant catch, a tranquil voyage and a safe return. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to captains of the boats judged best decorated.

Shrimp King for 1975, Mike Kulivan, will be crowned at the Fais DoDo Saturday evening by Mississippi's Miss Hospitality Robin Matulich. A Shrimp Queen will also be selected at the ceremonies to reign over the blessing of the fleet and to represent Biloxi in the Miss Mississippi Pageant later this summer.

Mississippi Power files suit against principal coal supplier

Mississippi Power Company Thursday filed suit in U. S. District Court at Biloxi against Peabody Coal Co., its principal supplier of coal, for breach of contract.

Peabody Coal Co. furnishes coal used in the generation of electricity at the power company's Plant Jack Watson in Harrison County.

Company President Victor J. Daniel, Jr., said that Mississippi Power Co. (MPC) had a long-term contract for many years with Peabody Coal Co. for specific tonnages of coal, presently 1.76 million tons per year. However, Peabody Coal Co. has notified MPC that in June Peabody will reduce the contracted supply to 460,000 annually.

MPC is seeking a court order requiring Peabody to fulfill its contract and, alternately, is asking damages for breach of contract totaling more than $346 million over the agreed period which ends Jan. 1, 1987.

MPC at Gulfport, provides electric service to nearly 146,000 customers in 23 southeast Mississippi counties.

Procedures changed for draft registration

The Selective Service has announced a new system for young men to register for the draft. Previously, young men were required to register at age 18, although no one has been drafted since Jan. 1, 1973.

Harold R. White, state director said that the Selective Service plans to set up a once-a-year procedure, whereby all young men reaching age 18 the previous year will be required to register. White noted that many men turning 18 this year have already registered. They will not have to do so again.

Registration on a daily basis was discontinued April 1, 1975. All young men becoming 18 after April 1 will be allowed to wait until the period for them to register is announced, probably in Jan. 1976.

The law still requires all 18 year old men to register with Selective Service. Only the procedures are being changed.

Hancock fleet receives annual blessing Saturday

The Hancock County Annual Blessing of the Fleet, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Gulf Fishermen, Inc. will take place at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 31, at Ladner's Bayou Caddy Marina in Lakeshore. Father Gregory Johnson, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will conduct the blessing of area fishing boats.

Area fishermen will compete for prizes for the best decorated boats. The winners will be selected by a panel of judges appointed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Patrol will lead the procession which will include a Mississippi Marine Conservation boat, the U. S. Navy Seebies and the U. S. Coast Guard. Sports fishing boats are invited to join the commercial boats in receiving the blessing.

Bob Bennett and his Country

Playboys will furnish music for the occasion. Boiled crabs, crawfish and shrimp will be available at the Marina. The public is invited to attend the event.

Mississippi featured at travel show

The sights and sounds of Mississippi today will be spotlighted at 6:30 p.m. tonight at a mint julep reception in New Orleans' Rivergate, hosted by the Travel and Tourism Department of the state's A&I Board.

The reception will be part of the first Discover America National Travel Mart and Conference, scheduled for May 29-31 at the Rivergate.

The event will include a leadership session, a series of individual workshops and a national travel mart, bringing together sales representatives from all components of domestic tourism to promote and sell United States destinations.

United States Senator Daniel K. Inouye and Congressman James J. Florio will head the list of speakers taking part in the conference.

The A&I Board's five-screen presentation offers a 30-minute panorama of Mississippi's industrial development, people and tourist attractions utilizing rear screen projection and a musical score composed especially for the show.

What happened to the four-way stop signs at the corner of St. Charles and Third Streets? Now that schools are out, we have a lot of children and cars on the streets. If the signs were put back it would slow traffic down at these corners and maybe save someone's life also.

St. Charles resident

It is the opinion of Mayor Warren G. Carver that 4-way stop signs are not warranted at the corners of St. Charles and Third.

Carver said stop signs already existed on Third Street giving motorists on St. Charles the right-of-way.

The mayor said the city's decision on the matter was based on guidelines published by the American Association of State Highway Officials and the National Joint Committee of Uniform Traffic Control Devices.

ACTION PLEASE

Carver said the four requirements used as criteria for the erection of stop signs are:

- 1 - intersection of less important road with main road where applications of normal right-of-way rule is unusually hazardous.
- 2 - street entering through highway or other street.
- 3 - Unsignalized intersection in a signalized area.

4 - other intersection where high speed, restricted view and serious accident record indicate need for control by stop sign.

Carver said police reports and the aforementioned specifications at present did not justify the need for 4-way stop signs.

Persons wishing to send letters to the Action please editor may send them in care of the Sea Coast Echo Newspaper, Box 230, Bay St. Louis, Miss. The writer's name and address should be included on the letter, but identities will be withheld upon request. In cases of emergency persons may phone the Sea Coast Echo office.

Miss Stamm, Mr. Lok plan June wedding

Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard Stamm of Bay St. Louis announce the engagement of their daughter, Maureen, to James Barron Lok, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter James Lok of Hattiesburg.

The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, June 14, at St. John Lutheran Church in Hattiesburg.

Grandparents of the bride-elect are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stamm of Coral Gables, Fla. and the late Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Nelson of Midland, South Dakota.

Miss Stamm is a graduate of Bay Senior High School and the University of Southern Mississippi where she majored in music education. She was a Dean's List scholar and a member of Tau Beta Sigma honorary band sorority. This past year she has taught music in Union, Miss.

Grandparents of the groom-elect are Mrs. D. N. Barron and the late D. N. Barron of Hattiesburg and Mrs. W. C. Lok and the late W. C. Lok of Adrian, Michigan.

Mr. Lok is a graduate of Blair High School in Hattiesburg and the University of Southern Mississippi where he received his bachelor's degree in biology. He was a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi honorary societies and the symphonic band. He was a President's List scholar and received the outstanding senior awards in biology and biochemistry. Mr. Lok is presently attending Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, where he is doing graduate work in entomology and biochemistry.

Miss Kathy Shanafelt will attend Miss Stamm as maid of honor with sister of the bride-elect Penny Stamm, Debbie Blackwell and Barbara Corro as bridesmaids.

Best man will be the groom-elect's brother, Larry Lok, with Tony Lok, brother of the groom-elect, and Richard Stamm, brother of the bride-elect as groomsmen.

Following the June 14 ceremony, the couple will reside in Ithaca, New York.

PATRICIA ANN LADNER

Miss Ladner to wed Mr. Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Ladner of Nacaise Crossing announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Howard Lavon Smith, son of Mr. L. V. Smith of Collins, Miss. and Mrs. Margaret Shaw of Steep Hollow.

The wedding will be solemnized 2 p.m. Saturday, June 14, at Barth Missionary Baptist Church in Barth. Reverend Johnny B. Ladner will preside at the ceremony.

Miss Ladner will graduate from Hancock North Central High School in 1976 where she has attended for 11 years.

Mr. Smith is presently employed by the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Mrs. Karen Dedeaux of Stone County will attend the bride elect as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Karen Smith, the bride's sisters Debbie, Wanda, Deborah and Lisa Ladner. The attendants will be dressed in rainbow colors of crepe.

Prentice Dedeaux of Stone County will serve as best man. Groomsmen will be John Shaw, Larry Smith and brothers of the bride elect, Billy, Carl and Ferllon Ladner.

A reception following the ceremony will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ladner in Nacaise Crossing. All friends and family are invited to attend through this medium.

Bay Bridge Festival provides visitors "action" exhibits

The second annual Bay Bridge Festival Saturday and Sunday at the National Guard Armory, Bay St. Louis, promises to be a repeat of last year's success with approximately 20 exhibits scheduled for the two-day affair.

Among the biggest attractions in the weekend festival, which is sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Bay St. Louis-Waveland, are the artisans "in action" who last year kept visitors engaged for hours with on the spot demonstrations of their craft work.

This weekend's activities will feature artisans involved in quilt making, leather work, glass work, macrame, and water colors.

Other static exhibits will also be included in the flea market atmosphere with visitors encouraged to browse and shop within the various booths.

Many dealers have found the festival perfect for showing antiques and collectibles, and Altrusa president Jeannette Monti said this year's festival would include another category - that of attic treasures.

Exhibitors will also be on hand for various arts and crafts, as well as the operation of a genuine country store and sale of hot fresh baked bread - whatever the customer desires.

For plant lovers, the festival will feature another exhibit solely on terrariums.

Exhibits will be open Saturday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Sunday from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. A $1 admission fee will be charged that will entitle the person to attend both days.

Tickets are available from all Altrusa members or may be purchased at the door. Door prizes will also be awarded and food and drinks will be available within the armory.

All money raised by the festival will go to community service projects under the guidance of the Altrusa Club.

Stanislaus seniors receive college scholarships

Nineteen St. Stanislaus seniors have earned scholarships to Mississippi universities and to various universities throughout the United States, said principal Brother Lee Barker.

Bayne Dickinson, valedictorian, has received a $14,000 academic scholarship to Tulane University in New Orleans. Robert Warner, salutatorian, will receive a university academic scholarship to the University of Mississippi. Tom Pfeeger has been appointed to the United States Military Academy in West Point, New York, as well as receiving an academic scholarship to Florida State University. Tom Gargiulo has also received an appointment to the United States Military Academy along with academic scholarships to Tulane University and Loyola University in New Orleans.

James Schott has earned academic scholarships to Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge and Loyola University. William Wesselman, a national merit semifinalist, has received an academic scholarship to Loyola University. Steve Scott has received an academic scholarship to Spring Hill College in Mobile, Alabama, and academic scholarship to Loyola University. George Briggs has earned an academic scholarship valued at $9,800 to Loyola University in New Orleans.

Perry Moran, Charles Weathersby and David Scaffidi have received Polymer science scholarships to the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. Walter Bringaze is the recipient of an academic scholarship to Loyola University. Scott Atwell, Mike Phillips and Robert Wyatt will receive academic scholarships to Pearl River Junior College on the basis of their scores on the A.C.T. test. Andy Lagarde has earned an academic scholarship to the University of Southern Mississippi and to William Carey College in Hattiesburg. An athletic scholarship to Pearl River Junior College was awarded to David Depreo.

Teachers honor 38-year retiree

The Hancock County Teachers Association paid special tribute last week to retiring teacher Mrs. Cornelius Favre who has been a teacher in Hancock County for the past 38 years, and in the state of Mississippi for the past 41 years.

Mrs. Favre has spent the past 16 years teaching home economics at Hancock North Central High School.

"For most of us," the resolution reads, "it is seldom that we are honored to have a teacher give so much of her life to our county, affecting the lives of many boys and girls today, yesterday and in the years to come. As the academic year 1974-75 closes in Mississippi Mrs. Favre leaves the realm of teaching, but all those who know her and have been influenced by her teaching will remember her in the years to come."

Little Theatre repeats "Come Blow Your Horn"

The latest production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, "Come Blow Your Horn", a comedy by Neil Simon playing June 12-14 will bring several new faces to the community stage.

Starring actresses are Anne Bennett, Lader who plays Peggy, a foxy blonde, Majorie Seabury as Mrs. Barker, a Yiddish mother, and Diana Sones as Connie, a successful young business woman who wants to marry Allen Barker, the main character in the comedy.

The Barker brothers, Allen and Buddy, are played by Mark Horne and Tom London. Their roles reflect the experiences of Neil Simon and his brother Dan who collaborated on several musicals, novels and a play, "Come Blow Your Horn" mirrors their problems in shaking loose from protective parents.

Edward Craig plays Mr. Barker, the conservative father who is bewildered by his sons' rejection of the family business.

Tickets to the performances are available at deMontluzin's Drugs and at the door of the theatre all three nights. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

First Baptist sets Bible school registration

Registration for vacation Bible school at the First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis will be held 10 a.m. Saturday, May 31 for children ages four to 11.

A vacation Bible school parade through Bay St. Louis will follow the registration beginning at 10:30 a.m. The parade will be escorted by the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments and the Bay St. Louis fire department. All children who register for the classes are invited to participate in the parade. Bible school classes will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday June 2-6. A special class will be held for young people in grades seven through 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. the same week.

Picture day has been scheduled for June 2, and pictures will appear on the certificates given to the children at the picnic June 6, the final class day.

The Bible school will also include this year a volleyball competition for the evening class led by Rev. Nathan L. Barber, Miss June Dearman and Lee Delcuze.

Area pharmacists attend seminar

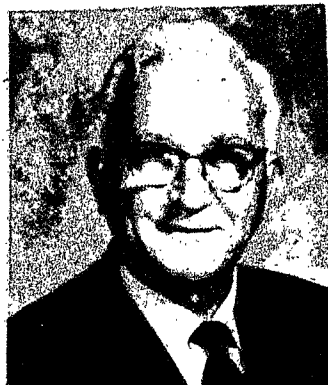

More than 20 pharmacists from the five counties in the District IX area of the Mississippi State Pharmaceutical Association attended a pharmacy seminar in Gulfport May 13.

The seminar was sponsored by the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy and featured guest speaker Dr. Norman J. Doorenbos whose topic was marine pharmacognosy research. Chairmen of the seminar were Jeannie Busby of Natchez and C. M. McArthur of Bay St. Louis.

Stanislaus teacher named "Do" director

BROTHER CANISIUS SCHELL

St. Stanislaus faculty member Brother Canisius Schell, has been appointed director of Project "Do" sponsored by the Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse in New Orleans.

The goal of this program is to involve New Orleans teenagers in voluntary work carried on by organizations that care for the infirm, the aged, the homeless, the disabled and handicapped. Brother Schell's responsibility will be to place those teenagers who have been referred to him by family courts, school counselors, the clergy and others in voluntary service programs that will give them opportunities to do for others.

"Hopefully, the program will add a new dimension to the lives of these young people and thereby lessen the temptation for them to depend on alcohol and drugs as a solution to their problems," said Brother Schell.

CEHS graduate receives national French award

Coast Episcopal High School honor graduate, Steve Herring, son of Mack Herring and Mrs. Joan Herring of Pass Christian and Long Beach, has placed seventh in the nation in French Level IV.

Herring was presented with a certificate recognizing his national achievement at graduation exercises Sunday, May 25. Earlier he received a prize book and certificate as second place winner in the South Atlantic region and was named first place state winner in French IV.

Herring received the French medal and prize book as the outstanding CEHS French student.

Salutatorian, Susan Necaise, has a four-year average of 94.3 and has been named to the Society for Outstanding High School Students, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students and has won individual awards in Spanish, secretarial training and business education.

She has served as secretary of her homeroom and was a member of the basketball team, the skin diving club, the drama club, the hiking club and the Beta club.

Also named to the Pass High Hall of Fame were Leslie Wayne Sackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sackett and Susan Ann Charlott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Charlott, Jr.

Sackett served as Student Council president and was a member of the library club, the art club, the Beta club and the softball team. He won awards in earth science and physical education and won the National Math Award. He was also named to the Society of Distinguished American High School Students.

Miss Charlott was a cheerleader and a member of the band, the student council, the track team, the Afro American club, the drama club and the Beta Club.

She was named most valuable student at Pass High and served as Attorney General at Girl's State. She was also named to Who's Who Among High School Students, an Outstanding Teenager of America and a Distinguished High School Student. Miss Charlott was in addition a talent winner in the Junior Miss Pageant, and won the National High School Award of Excellence, as well as the DAR history award and the Junior and Senior High American Legion Awards.

Senior citizens attend Veteran's Day picnic

Over 250 senior citizens from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties attended a Veteran's Day picnic Friday, May 16, at the Westside Community Center in Gulfport.

Attending the event from Bay St. Louis were Joseph Dowling, Sidney Gonzales, Hugh Miller, Ludwig Mullings and Herman Sylvester.

The Fip Johnson Band of Bay St. Louis provided the entertainment.

Health fair set for Saturday

The Free Health Fair sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, May 31, at North Bay Elementary.

Sponsoring organizations of the fair estimate that approximately 700 persons can be tested at the fair in the following areas: pap smear, blood sugar, hemoglobin and hematocrit, blood pressure, glaucoma, hearing and dental exam. A grant of $828 has been received from the Mississippi Regional Medical Programs for the fair.

There will also be exhibits on nutrition, lifesaving techniques, breast self-exam technique and drug abuse.

All tests will be administered by professionals and results will be referred through the Hancock Health Department. Only persons whose tests proved not to be within the normal range will be notified for follow-up examinations by their own physician.

McIntyre's celebrate silver anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Ray McIntyre, Bay St. Louis, were honored at a reception Saturday, May 24, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary hosted by their children Mr. and Mrs. Carl McIntyre of Jackson, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Necaise, Bay St. Louis, at the Necaise home.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre were married May 27, 1950, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. Grady Ketchum, Jackson, with Dr. Ketchum officiating. They now have two children and a grandson, Thad McIntyre.

Mrs. McIntyre received guests wearing a floor length floral knit dress accented by a white carnation corsage.

Arrangements of snapdragons and daisies decorated the reception room. The cake table held a three-tiered cake decorated with white spun sugar roses topped with silver numerals. Arrangements of daisies and silver candelabra completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Charles Patrick, Jackson, Ala., presided at the cake table and Mrs. Roland Necaise and Mrs. Helen Carler were at the punch bowl.

Out of town guests were Mrs. McIntyre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leco Moseley, Mr. McIntyre's mother, Mrs. John D. McIntyre, Miss Clara Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. James Harrell, all of Jackson, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Patrick, Leroy, Ala.

BASIS OF AWARD

The award or awards, if made, will be made to the lowest qualified bidder on the basis of the published quantities on each individual road.

Plans and Specifications are on file in the office of the County Engineer of Hancock County, at Picaune, Mississippi, and the office of the Chancery Clerk at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. Plans and proposals may be secured from the County Engineer, P. O. Box 135, Picaune, Mississippi, upon payment of $15.00 which will not be refunded.

Certified check or bid bond for five percent (5) of total bid payable to Hancock County must accompany each proposal. Bidders may bid on any or all of the proposed roads.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Certified check or bid bond will be returned immediately to unsuccessful bidders. Bidders are hereby notified that any proposal accompanied by letters qualifying in any manner the condition under which the proposal is tendered will be considered an irregular bid and such proposals will not be considered in making the award.

A performance bond in the full amount of the contract will be required of the successful bidder or bidders on Roads 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12. The bid bond on Roads 1, 2, and 3 will be held, in lieu of a performance bond, until the work is satisfactorily completed.

The contractors will be required to pay wages in accordance with and meet other conditions of the Davis-Bacon Act, and to meet conditions of employment under applicable laws.

Attention is called to the fact that contracts exceeding $25,000 require contractors to be licensed under applicable laws of the State of Mississippi and have a Certificate of Responsibility.

Gulf Pines scouts receive first class pins

BILOXI, Miss. -- Mrs. Lucien Gex of Bay St. Louis served as mistress of ceremonies at the awards banquet for 56 cadette girl scouts of the Gulf Pines Council at the Biloxi Hilton Friday, May 16.

Scouts from the Gulf Coast area received first class pins recognizing achievement in a minimum of six and a maximum of 12 areas including arts, citizenship, health and safety, home, international friendship and out-of-doors.

Mrs. Lyle Robertson of Gulfport was keynote speaker for the banquet. She was also presented a life membership certificate by the Gulf Pines Council for 25 years of volunteer service.

Also present at the ceremonies were Mrs. Alice Holmes of Bay St. Louis.

Legion honorees

Recipients of the American Legion Award at Bay Senior High at graduation ceremonies Friday, May 23, were Miss Peggy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Bay St. Louis and Michael Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Magee of Bay St. Louis. The awards were presented by Bay St. Louis Legionnaire John Rutherford. Miss Smith is the first Bay High student to have received the award three times, in the sixth, ninth and twelfth grades.

White, Blaize spin shutouts

Ricky White spun a no-hitter and allowed just one base runner as the Long Beach Maroons crushed the Harrison Central Red Rebels 10-0 in the first game of the 1975 Senior Babe Ruth League opening day doubleheader Sunday in Long Beach. In the nightcap, Arnold Fairconnetue led off the game by drawing a base on balls and then scored the game's only run as the Bay St. Louis-Diamondhead baseball team shut out the Long Beach Blues 1-0.

In the first game, after retiring the first 14 batters he faced, Ricky White walked shortstop Mark Friloux with two out in the fourth inning. Friloux was the only Harrison Central batter to reach base against the fireballing White who fanned nine batters in just five innings.

The Maroons, the league's defending champions, banged out 11 hits and played errorless ball to aid White's pitching cause. The game was called and White's pitching gem preserved when the Maroons scored two runs in the fifth inning to win by the ten-run rule.

The big inning for the Maroons was the second when they sent nine men to the plate and used four singles and two walks to push across five runs. Pee Wee Wescovich, Bill Lansdale, and Bob Richards delivered key hits in the inning with run-scoring singles.

Willie Willis received the loss for the Red Rebels. He was relieved by Ross Reyer following the five-run outburst.

Bill Lansdale went two-for-three and drove in three runs and scored another to lead the Maroon's offensive assault. Tim Berry also went two-for-three for Long Beach.

H. Central 000 00-0 0 1
L.B. Maroons 050 32-10 11 0

Niles Blaize followed White's masterpiece with his own two-hit whitewashing of the Long Beach Blues 1-0. Blaize, who was also the game's leading hitter with two hits in three at-bats, fanned seven, walked two, and was assisted by three timely double plays.

The Bay-Diamondhead nine scored the only run of the game when Arnold Fairconnetue led off the game with a walk, stole second, advanced to third on an infield error, and scored on Donald Corb's fielder's choice.

Bruce Cuevas was the Blue's hard luck pitcher, going the distance giving up just four hits.

Bay St. Louis stranded nine base runners and the Blues left three runners on base.

The 13-year-old Schmieg broke intramural records in the breast stroke and the back stroke events and also claimed top honors in the free style and butterfly competitions.

In the 50-yard breast stroke, Schmieg was clocked at 38.8 seconds, bettering the old record held by Kelly Russ of 40.2 seconds. John Saterlee, the second place finisher, also broke the previous record with a time of 40.0. Steve Saterlee finished third.

Schmieg also shattered the 50-yard back stroke record held by Ed Matthews (37.7) with a time of 35.1 seconds. John Relf finished in second. Ernie Dobson took top placing second and Marc Meyer third.

In the 200-yard free style relay, the team of John Saterlee, Glen Logan, John Relf, and Scott Settoon beat the second place team by 13 seconds.

Ladner's, Trapani's win in men's league

By EDWARD FAVRE
Ladner's kept its undefeated record intact, and Trapani's stayed in contention in men's softball league action Monday night in Bay St. Louis.

In the first game, Trapani's picked up eight runs on 11 hits and three errors with Duke Levy and Roger Fielder leading the Trapani hitters with two hits apiece. Bubbie Gillum led the Sluggers with two hits.

Mike Lee was credited with the win in relief for starter Alvin LaFontaine. Oscar Thomas was the losing pitcher.

The Sluggers jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning but were unable to score the rest of the way as Trapani's picked up two runs in the second, one in the third, one in the fourth, two in the fifth and two more in the seventh.

Trapani's 021 120 10 10 2
Sluggers 400 000 0 4

Ladner's scored in every inning and tallied seven times in the fourth inning en route to a 16-3 slaughter of Charles & Ramona's.

Vic Green led the winner's hitting attack with three hits in four at-bats as the league leaders pounded out 16 hits against seven for the losers.

Cory Bielstein and Bubba Allen each got two hits for Charles & Ramona's.

Randy Ladner was the winning pitcher and Fred Bilbo was the loser.

Ladner's 132 73-16

Jaycees, 10-5

Taking advantage of nine Riemann errors, the Jaycees pounded out a 10-5 little league win Friday afternoon. The Jaycees got only three hits in the game, and Tyrone Benoit got two of those with a perfect two-for-two game.

Donald Carver went two-for-three for the losers.

Steve Farve was credited with the win, and Ronald Carter was charged with loss.

The Jaycees stranded seven runners on the base paths, and Riemann left five.

American Legion, 11-9

American Legion kept itself in contention for the first round championship with a hard-hitting 11-9 win over Hancock Bank Friday afternoon.

The American Legion's catcher, Perre Cabell, led all hitters with three hits in four trips to the plate. Ricky Hardie and Melvin Barnes both got two hits for Hancock.

The win raised American Legion's record to 4-2 on the season.

Bruce Cabell went the distance on the mound and was credited with the win. Gus Aime absorbed the loss for Hancock Bank.

Hancock Bank, 16-11

Hancock Bank nailed down its elusive first win of the season with a 16-11 shellacking of Riemann Monday afternoon. Ricky Ladner and Melvin Barnes paced Hancock attack with three hits apiece.

Ronald Carter of Riemann's posted a perfect three-for-three day at the plate, and Donald Carter also got three hits for the loser.

Darrell Robinson was the winning pitcher and Tracy Ladner the loser.

Gulf National, 14-4

Gulf National Bank took over sole possession of second place Tuesday afternoon with a 14-4 thumping of the Jaycees in little league action.

Scoring four runs in the first inning on four consecutive extra base hits and adding six more in the fourth inning, Gulf National Bank nailed down the game with three runs in the fifth inning to win by the ten-run rule.

Jeff Kergosien led all hitters with three hits in four at-bats, and winning pitcher Kelly Geroux got two hits in three plate appearances.

Bobby Richardson was the losing pitcher for the Jaycees. The Jaycees left seven runners on base to Gulf National Bank's four.

The Babe Ruth Player of the Week

Frank Henry of Hancock Supply is the year's first Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth player of the week.

Henry, who is in his third year in the league, pitched and batted his team to a first place tie in league action. In the season opener, he tossed a one-hitter and fanned 14 Coast Electric stickmen.

Then, as a first baseman, he paced the Leon Farve-coached team to a win over Dixie Realty with two clutch RBI's and a strong defensive effort.

Others receiving honorable mention are Jeff Reed and Gary Sotak, of Dixie Realty; David Murtaugh, Mike Clifton, and Scott Colson of Hancock Supply; John Kersanac and Mike Richardson of Coast Electric; and Scott Thomas of Rotary.

Ole Miss cage signees spark '76 season hopes

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—With the signing of six promising basketball players for the 1976 season, Ole Miss athletic director John H. Vaughn says the Rebel basketball program is "making a giant step in the right direction."

"We are going to emphasize basketball strongly from now on at Ole Miss," Vaughn said Tuesday. "We have had an excellent recruiting campaign and we certainly hope this is the beginning of a successful era in Ole Miss basketball."

Rebel head coach Robert "Cob" Jarvis and assistants Bill Bolton, director of recruiting, and Ken Turner signed three junior college performers and three outstanding prepsters for 1976.

The junior college products are: All-Americans John Billips, 6-4½ guard-forward from Chipola JC in Marianna, Fla. and 6-6½ forward Eugene Harris of Western Texas JC in Snyder, Tex. along with 6-5 guard Elijah Emanuel of North Florida JC in Madison, Fla.

High school signees were 6-7 forward Ronnie Davis of Pompano Beach, Fla., 6-9 center Jeff Klein of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and 6-1 guard Henry Jackson of South Leake at Walnut Grove.

"It was certainly a fine recruiting season for us," said Jarvis, who has completed seven years as the Rebel headmaster. "And together with our returning players, we are looking forward to a much improved season."

Forward Walter Actwood, 6-6½ junior-to-be, a two-year letterman starter, heads the list of returnees. Senior forwards Herb Wright, 6-4½, and Harvey Murray, 6-5, return with 6-1 sophomore guard Joe Kyles as the other lettermen.

"Coach Jarvis and his staff have realized that in order to win, we need to recruit well," said Vaughn. "I believe they have done this by the signing of three All-American players, the signing of a 6-9 player and others with adequate height and the ability to handle the ball."

Billips averaged 23 points and 11 rebounds while Harris scored at 16.8 with 14 rebounds. Both played in the All-American Junior College game in San Antonio, Tex. Emanuel was an All-State juno player scoring at 22.6.

Davis was picked on four high school All-American teams. He averaged 18.7 points and 15.9 rebounds. Klein will be the Rebels' tallest squadman as a frosh. He averaged 23.5 points and 14.7 rebounds as a prep senior. Jackson was an All-Star scoring at 28.3 with 11.4 assists per contest.

"Certainly we are lacking a proven big man right now," said Jarvis. "But we have more speed and quickness than at any time since I've been at Ole Miss and we should probably have the best bench strength in my time here."

"I have said before that I felt like basketball should take its place as a revenue producing activity at the University," said Vaughn. "And in order to produce revenue, it's certainly necessary to have a winning percentage with your teams."

"With the prospects of a successful season next winter, we certainly are expecting a big demand for season tickets."

"Coach Jarvis and his staff have realized that in order to win, we need to recruit well," said Vaughn. "I believe they have done this by the signing of three All-American players, the signing of a 6-9 player and others with adequate height and the ability to handle the ball."

Ole Miss launches fifth Sports Camp

UNIVERSITY, Miss.

There will be something for almost every sports minded youngster next week as the Ole Miss Sports Camp launches its fifth year of operation.

And some of the most experienced and knowledgeable tutors in the profession will be on hand as instructors.

Camps for football-minded youngsters run June 1-7 and June 8-14. Baseball camps have the same dates as football with golf and tennis sessions set for June 1-7.

Also tennis for girls follows June 8-14. And basketball for girls begins June 15-21 and for boys June 22-28 and Aug. 3-9.

Current camp enrollment totals indicate this year's figures will likely pass 1974's record of 532 for football, baseball, golf and tennis. With maximum quotas already at a peak for the first week of camp, youngsters are encouraged to register for the second week of instruction in football and baseball.

In football, quarterbacks and running backs will come under Reb offensive backfield coach Charlie McCullers, who has developed two All-American quarterbacks in Bobby Douglass and David Jaynes along with numerous all-conference running backs.

Offensive linemen will receive instruction from Ron Stark who joined the Ole Miss staff this spring from the University of Minnesota where he coached some of the Big Ten Conference's best offensive lines.

Receivers will get expert tutelage from veteran Reb staffer Eddie Crawford who played professionally with the

New York Giants.

On defense, Jim Carmody, the Reb defensive line coach and end coach Thomas Coleman, will instruct in their principal areas. Linebacker coach Barry Wilson will demonstrate fundamentals of the linebacking corps and Harold Wheeler, a recent addition from Furman where his defensive backfield was the nation's third best a year ago, will stress responsibilities of the secondary.

Junior varsity coach Jack Carlisle will participate in all phases of the sessions as will outstanding high school coaches Lummy Wright of Vicksburg Warren Central and James "Woody" Gray of Leland. Wright and Gray will serve as head coaches for the state high school all-star game Aug. 2 in Jackson.

And joining that group are professional quarterbacks Archie Manning of the New Orleans Saints, Norris Weese of Hawaii of the NFL, running back Tommy Thompson of the San Diego Chargers and linebacker Stump Russell, 1974 Rebel tri-captain and recent signee of the Memphis Southmen.

Wilson will also lecture and demonstrate the Rebel weightlifting program.

Footballers will compete in punting, passing and running and view highlight films of numerous National Football League teams.

Fighting Kid beats off Bandito at Oak Downs

Special to The Echo
PEARL RIVER, La. - The Fighting Kid proved he was a fighter Sunday at Oak Downs.

In the 14th and final race of the day, The Fighting Kid was rated a decided underdog to Senior Bandito in a 400-yard test. But when the photo finish picture was developed, The Fighting Kid was a winner by the smallest of margins.

Owned and trained by Edward "Bubby" Patton of Bay St. Louis, The Fighting Kid was timed in 21.06 seconds while Senior Bandito was clocked in 21.05.

Two races earlier, Patton's Charlie Pride had won the 300-yard 12th in easy fashion over Chick Everett.

Another Hancock County horseman, Hayward Necaise, also had two winners Sunday. His Secretariat Jr. won the three-furlong ninth race and his Dial Donna captured the 400-yard 10th.

Also winning from Hancock was O'Neill Cuevas' Joker in the 300-yard fourth race.

In other highlights Sunday, Chuck Johnson's Tammy's Topette snapped an 18-race winning streak by Mr. Iron Hi. Tammy's Topette won the 250-yard 13th with a 13.86 clocking while Mr. Iron Hi was far behind at 14.05.

Best performance of the day for the quarterhorses was turned in by Hebert Black's Dial Mark Fiesta which recorded a Class AA rating of 18.47 in winning the 350-yard eighth race over Cookie's Red Boy (18.805).

Joey Schwankhart, the track's leading jockey, suffered cuts and bruises when his mount, Goal and Roll, in the three-furlong sixth race went wide in the turn and crashed into the outside railing.

Schwankhart, seeing his horse could not make the turn, bailed out seconds before the animal hit the railing. He was taken to Shidell Memorial Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries.

COMFORT WHEN STRANDED

Is your "possible kit" in good order?

A possible kit is the modern version of the old-time mountain man's "possible bag," a deerskin pouch which contained flint and steel, dry gunpowder, knife and whatever else the wilderness traveler wanted. His thought was that if his pack and gear were lost, he'd have enough tools in his possible bag - tied around his waist - to find his way back to civilization.

Modern boaters have little use for dry gunpowder, but a possible kit could make life much more comfortable when bad weather, mechanical failure, or fuel shortage makes it impossible to return to the marina.

The modern possible kit suggested by Mercury outdoor recreation staff contains items that require little space when stowed aboard a boat. A waterproof bag is the beginning of your kit. Choose each item that goes into the bag for its ability to keep you warm and dry.

Boaters are ignorant of water safety requirements

By DAVID PIERSON
"Right now with everyone getting out of school, there'll be lots of boats on the river, and that will make ours a seven-day-a-week job," said Mississippi Water Safety patrolman Ronald Ladner.

With more and more people turning to the water for recreational purposes (about 160,000 boats are registered in the state), it is surprising to learn that most boaters are ignorant of the state safety requirements but that is the situation, according to Ladner.

On a routine patrol last Friday in Jourdan River and Bayou La Croix, Ladner and fellow patrolman Jimmy Laird stopped three boats, and in each case the boat had to be cited for improper safety equipment or for not being registered. More importantly, in each of the three cases, the boat operator admitted to ignorance of the state boating laws.

What then are the state requirements to operate a boat in state waters?

First, the boat must be registered, and the registration slip must be kept in the boat. This also includes vessels with motors below ten horsepower. A two-year registration costs only $2.50, and the registration forms can be obtained from many places including the courthouse and sporting goods stores. Presently the state does not require operators' licenses.

Second, all vessels must have one Coast Guard-approved, wearable life preserver per person, and in addition, all boats 16 feet and over must have a throwable device, such as a ring.

Third, any boat that has closed compartments must have a fire extinguisher on board. Also, all boats 26 feet and above must have an extinguisher whether or not there are any closed compartments.

"When we stop people to check their safety equipment and boat registration," said Ladner, "we try to let them know that we're not trying to harass them. After all, they're out here for recreation, but with so many people turning to the water for recreation, there's a lot of potential for danger.

"I never gave water safety any consideration, until I became a water patrolman," Ladner added. "Since then I have seen too many accidents not to be very safety conscious."

One of the most dangerous things a boatman can do according to Ladner is sit on the gunnell of the boat. Many accidents are caused every year, Ladner said, when persons sitting on the bow, stern, or gunnell are thrown from the boat by a sudden motion.

The Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Patrol became a commission under the administration of Governor Paul B. Johnson when the flow of boating traffic increased. Presently state director of the commission is Leonard Boler. The commission's vice-chairman is Farris Tate. Under the direction of both Boler and Tate, the water safety commission has grown from five to 18 patrolmen with six of them being located on the Coast.

Two of these patrolmen, James Harrell and Jimmy Laird, patrol the waters of Hancock County, covering about 100 miles in their 165 horsepower, 17½ foot Monarchs. Both men are planning to attend a special week Coast Guard training program in Yorktown, Virginia in the Fall.

The patrol boat's loud-speaker and searchlight are often utilized to find a boater who is long overdue. Usually, Ladner says, the water patrolmen find that the boater has run out of gas or had an engine breakdown.

Public boating education is still the commission's biggest goal though.

"We work on the principle of prevention rather than apprehension," said Ladner. "If someone is conducting himself in a responsible manner on the boat, then we try to leave them alone. But if they are operating the boat recklessly, we have the powers of a peace officer."

On patrol

Patrolling the state's inland waters, Ronald Ladner's primary responsibility is to insure that the boaters adhere to the state's water safety standards.

The way it is

Ronald Ladner and fellow water safety patrolman, Jimmy Laird, explain to a visiting fisherman safety regulations required by the state. All boaters must register their boats with the commission and must carry life preservers. In addition, many boats are required by law to carry fire extinguishers.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Dec) Elliott

The present weather has been hot, but fish like hot weather. Most folks also like hot weather. No extra clothes to wear and getting wet from a shower cools one off.

Speaking about showers, fish always strike better after a shower which washes bugs into the water. This applies mostly to bass and perch which are now striking surface baits on the fly rod and casting rods.

We found a few places where perch are spawning and got our share of them by using a fly rod and fishing with the old perch pole and earth worms.

The water most everywhere is still on the bad side. Falling tides of the past week have helped to clear them up but there is a lot of improvement needed.

Falling tides have also made fishing in the late afternoons better, especially just before sundown. Wives wonder why their husbands stay so late. The above is the reason.

a good caster and catches his share of fish. Specializes his Bass fishing but can do any kind. Going to try frogging for the first time.

Have been hearing about the big perch which are being caught along Highway 1-10 north of Bay St. Louis. The spots are lakes which were made by dredging for fill for the highway.

Bayou Lacent has been a haven for fly fishing for years. Its beginning is on the Kiln Road. Can be reached by going through the lake off Jourdan River south of Highway 1-10 bridge. We think this lake is too new to be good right now. A couple of bass and some perch were caught in this lake the other day. Give it time and it will be a wonderful place to catch fresh water fish. The recent restocking of Jourdan River should help this lake.

his fishing when not pulling teeth, etc. Made a trip last weekend to Grand Isle. Doc is strictly a salt water fisherman. He brought home two ice chests of red fish and speckles.

Mike Mule is a sophomore at L.S.U. His hobbies are playing baseball and swimming.

Attended the graduation of Barbara Lynne Hoffman from Chapelle. She and her classmates went to Nassau on a week trip this week.

Warren J. Breaux, Jr. and his father made a salt water fishing trip to Ship Channel. They launched at Shell Beach. The water was too high but got a few reds and speckles. Going again next week. Better luck next trip, fellows. Warren is a grandson-in-law.

Attended another graduation, that of Georgia Haggerty, our granddaughter.

SPORT TALK Q & A

By Charlie Henderson

Q. Here's another bet-winner for you baseball fans. Name the Cy Young Award winners in the American Leagues from 1970 through 1974.

A. The top hurlers for those five years were Jim Perry, then with Minnesota, in 1970; Oakland's Vida Blue in 1971; Gaylord Perry (Jim's brother) with Cleveland in 1972; Jim Palmer of Baltimore in 1973; and Jim (Catfish) Hunter of the Oakland A's in 1974.

Q. What are baseball's "tools of ignorance"?

A. That's an old phrase applied to a catcher's gear: the shinguards, mask and chest protector. No one knows where the phrase comes from; it probably started because only someone "ignorant" would take on the job. (Although ex-catcher Joe Garagiola says the catcher was always the "fat kid on the block who couldn't run"). Actually, catchers are so involved in the strategy of the game they tend to be smarter than most ballplayers. Many go on to become managers.

Playing it smart when it comes to buying a car means dealing at the right time... and Spring is the time to make your smart deal, when your trade-in is at the highest it will ever be. Come in and talk trade now!

June and Dan were mighty proud of her. They have one more to go.

This week's column of Kantcha Ketchum is mostly of our family. If you don't toot your own horn once in a while about your own grandchildren, who will?

Recently a group of fishermen from Baton Rouge went to Lake Gurrera in Mexico, those who made the trip were Luke Elliott, Dr. C.C. Comeaux, John Ristolph, Junior Gayner, Walter Leftwich, Firmin Barnes, "Chip" Thibault, Charles Curtis and Ray Peck. A lot of these men come to Bay St. Louis to fish and hunt.

The men estimated they caught a total of 80 bass per man per day. The largest bass weighed 7 pounds and the average was approximately 2 1/2 to 3 pounds each.

Luke and Sue Elliott along with Luke Jr. and Evelyn made a trip to Leesville, La. for red fish and speckle trout, etc., but said sport fishing has been seriously hurt by the use of large gill nets being used by out of state commercial fishermen. The Louisiana Sports Fishermen, Inc. has begun a massive drive to get legislation and enforcement to limit size and use of these nets. It could happen here too.

Three generations of Elliott men went to False River to catch bream. They were Luke Elliott, Sr., Luke Elliott, Jr. and Clint Elliott, age 4 1/2 years. It is good to start them young. A good time was had but missing was the representative of the fourth generation, Yours Truly.

Mentioned the trip to Mexico to get big bass because some of our fishermen ask where can you catch big bass. Go to Mexico is all I can say if you have got the price.

Around here bass are caught from fingerlings to three pounds and up, occasionally. A good fisherman throws back anything weighing less than a pound. Next year the same bass will weigh about 1 1/4 pounds. Let 'em grow a little larger.

Allen Riley plays the guitar and sings at the Office Lounge Thursday through Monday. He also does fishing with Leo Robinson, caretaker for the Old Pine Hills Hotel on the back bay of Bay St. Louis. They catch mostly salt water fish and spear flounders.

This brings back old times to me. Pine Hills was our old stomping grounds for spearing flounders and getting soft crabs. Better learn to catch soft crabs, Allen, if you want to have big fun!

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - Ray Hoffman, Jr. plays the guitar, plays tennis, fishes, and likes crabbing. A student at U.N.O., Ray wants to learn to fly fish.

Andy Martinez, the man behind the Miller magic

By STEVE BISHEFF

OK, so we all know Johnny Miller is golf's leading money winner. The trivia question of the day is, who's the second-leading money winner?

Johnny Miller's caddy, that's who.

Funny thing is, that's not much of a joke anymore. It's more like the truth.

Andy Martinez, 24, may be the sport's first full-fledged celebrity caddy. He's been widely advertised as the man behind the Miller magic.

People rush up to him for autographs, they beg him for one of Miller's golf balls or they just come over and ask anything and everything about the game's new No. 1 glamor player.

Martinez doesn't mind. He's come a long way from the days when he used to have to sneak into the Hacienda Golf Course in San Pedro, Calif., practicing in the dark, ducking whenever cars would drive by.

A high school graduate who's always been infatuated with golf, he figures he's got a pretty good thing going at the moment. Certainly, you can't beat the hours or the pay.

"I only work 20 weeks a year," he said, "and I get to watch the best golfer in the world."

He's also amply rewarded for his time.

He gets a seven per cent cut of Miller's winnings, plus a flat fee for every week he caddies a tournament. When you stop to consider that in the last 14 months, Miller has banked a tidy $461,364, you conclude that someday soon Martinez may be able to quit and build his own golf course.

There are some fringe benefits to his job, too, of course. Lots of traveling -- first class, naturally -- and only the best of hotel accommodations. Then there's an occasional bonus, like the new car Miller presented him with after one of last year's many tournament victories. Obviously, Miller thinks Martinez is worth it. Besides being Johnny's closest companion on the tour, he's much more than just your basic, old-style bag carrier.

He's the prototype of the new breed caddy, the young, intelligent student of the games who can help turn a pro's whole career around.

"He's a serious professional at his business," said Miller, "and he makes life easier for me. I can stay at home an extra day with the wife and kids while he plots the yardages and courses -- in a way I can always trust."

There are those who even suggest the rule that prohibits regular caddies from being one of the primary reasons Miller hasn't played as well in the prestige events.

"Sure," said Martinez, "it's frustrating that I can't work for John in the Big Four tournaments. It's a bunch of garbage, really. "I do think they're going to let us in the British Open this year, though, and if all the pros stick together in the PGA, I think we could get the tour caddies in there, too."

In the meantime, Martinez will appease himself by continuing to follow his favorite golfer around the country, marveling at both his shot making and his disposition.

And, maybe better than anyone else, he can provide occasional insight into how Miller has come to dominate the game so completely.

"First thing," said Andy,

"is that he's got every shot in the bag. I mean, every one. Then, he's always hit it straight. And this last year, of course, he's been putting super."

"But, REALLY, I think the big difference is upstairs. You can't have a better attitude than his."

"Besides that, he's just a great guy. None of this has changed him even a little."

It's changed Martinez, though. Even Miller agrees to that.

"Andy Martinez," said Johnny, smiling, "is one of the most famous men in San Pedro now."

Graphite shafted golf clubs give longer drives

A recent survey of playing and teaching professional golfers confirms that graphite shafted golf clubs can give the golfer longer drives, better control and easier swing.

The survey showed that 82 percent of the golf pros questioned said that graphite shafted clubs improved golfing performance. Of these pros, 58 percent cited increased distance as the major benefit and 36 percent pointed to greater accuracy.

Graphite increases distance by taking the weight out of the shaft and putting it into the head. And it improves accuracy and stamina by letting the golfer swing a lighter club — with better feel and quicker shaft recovery.

A superior graphite shaft, DynaTorque, manufactured by Babcock & Wilcox, performs well because of added consistency — consistent torsional properties, weight, balance point, tip strength and flex — prerequisites for consistent fairway performance.

For more information on graphite golf shafts write or call (216) 823-0500 Fred Castens, Babcock & Wilcox Advanced Composites Department, P. O. Box 419B, 1551 S. Linden Avenue, Alliance, Ohio 44601 or ask your golf shop about DynaTorque golf shafts.

Let's try this plan

J. C. Arban, head football coach and athletic director at Pearl River Junior College, talks with his team captains about the upcoming year. Arban said the team selected the players early this season in order that they

Christmas?!?

"You may

Vacationers are warned to take anti-burglary measures

You've checked luggage. You've had the tires, water, oil and gasoline checked on your car. You've turned off the gas, and you even remembered to get film for the camera. So you hop in the car and head off to the mountains, confident that THIS is going to be the best vacation ever.

Right? Maybe, says the Insurance Information Institute. If you haven't remembered to take a few precautions to prevent burglars from breaking into your home while you're away, this may just turn out to be the WORST vacation ever.

Statistics show that 75 per cent of the convicted burglars in this country have prior convictions. Quinn Tamm, executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, says that maybe the reason burglary is so popular is because we make it so easy.

A prowler enters someone's home every 15 seconds in this country, and of the $400 million worth of goods stolen each year, only 5 per cent is recovered. Vacationers are particularly subject to burglary because they do not often take the basic precautions which help prevent illegal entry into their homes.

You can't make your home absolutely burglar-proof, says the Institute, but you can make entry so difficult that a thief will go elsewhere in search of an easier victim.

DISCOURAGE BURGLARS To make it difficult for a burglar to get into your home:

-- Lock all outside doors, and windows, as well as garage doors.

-- During the nighttime hours, obtain several inexpensive plug-in timers to turn lights, televisions and radios on during the time you would most likely have them on if you were at home.

-- Have milk, newspapers and other deliveries discontinued during your absence. Burglars watch for piled-up papers and milk bottles that indicate a vacant house.

-- Have your telephone temporarily disconnected. Burglars often call before committing a robbery to see if anyone is at home.

-- Arrange for lawn care, and removal of circulars. -- Have the post office forward or hold your mail, or have neighbors collect it daily.

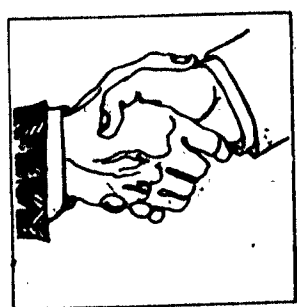

-- Ask a neighbor or relative to check your home periodically to be sure light timers are working and to vary the lights and position of drapes.

LOCKS AND ALARMS

With crime soaring every day, every home should have cylinder deadlocks on all entry doors. There are various types available, and you should contact a qualified locksmith or the police for advice on the type of lock that will do the best job for you.

On doors with glass panels,

State Farm person to person health insurance

It can make you feel better. At State Farm, person to person health insurance revives that old-fashion idea of personal attention. Yet it helps protect against today's soaring medical costs. It can even make sure you get money to help meet those extra hospital expenses. Or an income if you're disabled. Let me show you how.

such as sliding glass doors, you should have double-cylinder deadlocks with a key that locks from either side so a burglar cannot cut the glass and reach in to open the lock. An additional precaution for sliding glass doors is to place a sturdy wooden or metal rod, such as a broom handle cut to fit, into the sliding jamb at the bottom of the door to keep the door safely closed.

Window locks must also be securely latched. A stoplock is available which limits window openings to ventilation spaces too small to permit entry. There are now available several varieties of inexpensive battery-powered door alarms which, when activated, produce a loud, startling sound with any attempt to jimmy or force open a door. The unexpected noise is often enough to scare away a burglar, and can also alert neighbors or police.

More sophisticated alarm systems are also available. Some involve electric eyes, and others are sound-activated.

Four netters advance to state tourney

James Schott, Anne
Johnson, Craig Singleton, and Lis Lagarde all claimed tournament championships
Saturday at the Bay St. Louis
Jaycee's tennis tournament at St. Stanislaus. The four local netters will now advance to the state tournament this weekend at Battlefield Park in Jackson.

Schott claimed the boys' singles 18 and under title by whipping Roderick Singleton in straight sets 6-1, 6-0. Others competing in the tournament included Keith Folse, Tommy Koger, and Joe Doussan.

Anne Johnson, last year's runner-up in the Jaycee
sponsored state championships, overcame Holly
Vegas in the finals 6-4, 6-3.
Other competing were
Sabrina Williams, Noella
Williams, and Joan Dickinson.

Lis Lagarde breezed to the girls' 14 and under title with a 6-0, 6-0 whitewashing of Monda Dickinson in the finals.
Earlier Miss Dickinson came from behind to edge Anne Trombley in the longest match of the day 2-6, 7-6, 7-5. Leslie Staeble was defeated in the first round by Miss Lagarde.

Craig Singleton claimed the boys' singles title.
The Jaycees will pay the entry fees for the four winners in the state competition.

Jaycee winners

Winners in Saturday's Jaycee-sponsored tennis tournament at the Stanislaus
Lis Lagarde, James Schott,
Anne Johnson, and Craig Singleton. The four local netters now advance to the state tournament this weekend in Jackson.
